

Climate Control + Home Automation

stylishly integrated

Where design meets technology

Ekinex has created a line of products that embraces the essence of the Made in Italy: design, attention to detail, technological innovation and advancement.

Designed for a global market, Ekinex products are an expression of the new Italian tradition, which combines the attention of craftsmanship in the creation of the product to high technological levels.

Ekinex supports the idea of a design that is not just an aesthetic exercise, but one that understands, as fundamental factors, ease of use, immediate understanding of the function and the balanced and intelligent application of technology.

Built on KNX, the worldwide standard and market leader for home and building control, provides the reliability of a consolidated system and the dynamic nature of a rapidly developing system, thanks to the contribution of manufacturers from different fields and to the constant widening of the supply in terms of products, functions and solutions.

Metal, Plastic or Fenix finishes

Australian GPOs

Bi-Colour

Custom engraving on switches

Sample selection of devices shown, many more variations available.

A controls system that's tailored to your needs

Climate Control Solutions

Our heating and cooling systems just got a stylish new upgrade. Our basic climate control packages can now incorporate Ekinex control technology, which means you don't need a full home automation package to take advantage of the sleek style and improved functionality of Ekinex switches, thermostats and controls. This added feature gives you the freedom to select from Ekinex's range of quality Italian designed and manufactured products to compliment your underfloor hydronic heating and air conditioning system.

Not only have we improved the choices and flexibility for the climate control system, but the KNX protocol standard also allows for a seamless integration of the energy source for most brands of heat pumps, air conditioners, chillers and boilers. This provides you with a single, easy to use system for controlling the climate in your home, all from the one supplier – Radiant Heating and Cooling Solutions.

Complete Home Automation Integration

With accredited programmers, we can assist with all your home automation requirements from smart lighting and home security to home theatre and voice control, and much more – our capabilities are not limited to simply integrating your home heating and cooling.

We can help create an intelligent home that keeps you in control of all your connected devices, making your life more convenient, comfortable and safe. With thousands of KNX certified products available from leading brands, in addition to Ekinex's extensive range of controls, we can give you the flexibility to integrate your favourite technology into your smart home and allows RHCS to be your single point of contact for your complete home automation package and climate control solution.

Home security, cameras, intercoms

Home theatre, music, media rooms

Lighting, scene creation

Blinds, gate, access... and much more

Radiant Heating and Cooling Solutions
Level 2, U2/18-28 Sir Joseph Banks Drive
Kurnell NSW 2231

ph: 1300 790 636

email: sales@rhcs.net.au

www.rhcs.net.au

Your local supplier/installer: